THE REMEDY .

There is but one way to cure an old sore or chronic ulcer, and that is to remove the cause that produces and keeps it open. No matter where located, any sore that remains until it becomes chronic does so because of impure blood; the circulation constantly discharges its polluted matter into the place and it is impossible for nature to heal the sore. S.S.S. heals sores and nicers by purifying the blood. It removes every trace of taint or impurity from the circulation, and thus completely does away with the cause. No local application reaches below the infected flesh at the spot, and for this reason can have no curative effect on a sore or ulcer; while such treatment is being used alone, the germs and impurities are constantly increasing in the blood and the sore is bound to grow worse. When S.S.S. has cleaned the blood and enriched and purified the circulation the place begins to take on a more healthy appearance, the different symptoms show improvement, the flesh around the ulcer gets firm, new skin and tissues are formed, and aided by pure, rich blood, nature provides a perfect and lasting cure. Under the tonic and blood-purifying effects of S.S.S.; the system is built up, and those whose health has been impaired by the drain and worry of an old sore will be greatly benefited by its use. MISSIONER TALKS OF SUFFERING

Result of Sin-Service at St. Clement's.

That the mission of St. Clement's church is increasing in interest is manifested by the fact that so many people availed themselves of the opportunity afforded them by Dr. Semmes to ask questions, as to preclude the possiollity of a sermon at last night's serv-

The questions last evening covered a wide range, both of the theory and practice of Christian living, and the missioner's answers held the attention of his hearers to the end. Among others were requests to explain the doctrine of the Trinity, and Christ's office in the creation of the world. What is the second coming of Christ, Why do Christian ople suffer? and what is the teaching of the church on the intermediate state

Possibly the most interesting answer was that upon suffering, wherein the speaker reminded his heavers that the people must not charge God with much of the suffering about them. Much of it is the direct result of sin, he said.

He told the story of a woman who came to her minister to tell him of the conversion of her husband after many years in a life of sin.

"But what I cannot understand," said "But what I cannot understand," said the woman, 'is why, with all my years of praying, God did not donvert him earlier. We should have been so much happier together." You say that you have been praying 26 years? asked the min-ister. Has this had no effect upon your life? Has it not drawn you closer to God? Then It seems to me that God, having at last converted your husband, has yet used this mysterious suffering most kindly in building up your charthankful, and leave the rest to him." New York. N. Y., Jan. 28.-Somewhere in this country, with several thousand dollars loosely stuffed into his pockets. and 80 odd railroad tickets in his posssion, roams a young bridegroom, a victim of overwork, and suffering from css of memory. On December 21, shortly after his marringe, young Charles H. Purdy, son of a wealthy New England real estate op-erator, drew from the bank several thousand dollars and came to New York for the purpose of settling his accounts with the firm he represented in New England. While en route to the city, or immediately upon arrival here, young Purdy was stricken, and he immediately proceeded to the ticket office and began a wild purchase of tickets, giving in-structions for their issue and destination. The ticket seller knew Purdy by sight and thought strangely of the matter, but made no reports, and this fact has been developed by detectives in the mploy of the boy's father.

The father, although grieved over the son's disappearance, immediately took charge of young Purdy's business af-fairs and has straightened out each and every claim, and the business is progressing as usual. The senior Purdy and his bride are anxious to hear of or from the missing youth.

The most peculiar feature of Purdy's disappearance is his insistence on buyg a great number of railroad tickets, which would have been impossible for him to use. He stood at the window. buying separately, individual tickets for 83 different points, many of which were duplicates over the same route. When he had finished he had paid the ticket agent exactly $1832.50. Purdy bought, among others, tickets

To the westward he secured tickets to Seattle, Tacoma, Spekane, Los Angeles, San Juan, Sacramente, San Francisco, Salt Lake, Ogden, Lincoln, Omaha, Dallas, Tex.; Kansas City, Topeka, Minneapolis, St. Paul. To the south his purchases has as their destination: Memphis, Charleston, Nashville, Knoxville, Adlanta, Montgomery, Mobile, Shreveport Jacksonville, Raleigh, Co-lumbia, Greenville, Norfolk, Washington and Richmond, Boston and Portland were the only eastern points to which tickets were issued for Purdy.

J. A. Happer, as the retiring president of the board, read the report of the directors and of the traffic manager, outlining the scope of the work done by the chamber during the past year and making recommendations for the future

Want Outside Money. The recommendation to establish a publicity bureau in connection with the chamber carried with it a suggestion that $6000 be set aside for this purpose. The freight bureau which was established only 13 months ago, was recommended to be made as near self supporting as possible by subscriptions from the shippers directly interested, in order that the funds now being diverted to this source might be davoted to the publicity department, More other city was another strong recommendation the retiring board made. A total of 15,000 letters and 20,000 pieces of literature have been sent out during the year The new booklet that is to be issued by the chamber was reported to be in the hands of the printer and 15,000 will be sent out as soon as received.

"That's just like me." she responded smoothly. "I always like to know what everybody else is doing, too," she went on. "I think what journalism needs is a soft feminine, refining influence. It seems you don't publish anything now but crime, divorces and people's troubles." She laughed.

"Oh, you wouldn't want to read every day that Mr. and Mrs. James Jones were living happily together. You're only interested when they're unhappy."
